

Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2009 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

*Indiana Alumnae Are Now
Eligible for Membership in the American Association of University Women*

Alumni News Bulletin

INDIANA STATE COLLEGE
INDIANA, PENNSYLVANIA

October 1961

Indiana Has Been Approved By A.A.U.W.

Indiana State College has been placed on the list of institutions providing membership eligibility in the American Association of University Women, according to Dr. Eunice C. Roberts, chairman of the committee of higher education of the American Association of University Women, Washington, D.C.

Being placed on the membership eligibility list in the American Association of University Women means that women graduates of Indiana State College are now eligible for membership in the AAUW, Dr. Roberts stated.

Indiana State College is the first of the Pennsylvania State Colleges and one of the first colleges of education in the country to be placed on the membership eligibility list of the American Association of University Women.

Indiana State College has a larger number of alumnae eligible for membership in the AAUW than any other State College or college of education in the Commonwealth. It is estimated that Indiana women graduates now eligible for membership in the AAUW would be close to 9,000 Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, stated.

Dr. Pratt indicated that his administration was extremely happy at the action of the American Association of University Women.

(Continued on page 7)

Issued quarterly by the General Alumni Association
State College
Indiana, Pennsylvania

October, 1961

Editor — Arthur F. Nicholson
Associate Editor — Marie Signorino
Executive Secretary — Mary L. Esch
President of the College
Willis E. Pratt

Alumni units and individuals having news for this bulletin are urged to send same to the editor as early as possible. Give the complete details of who, what, when, where, how, and why.

Alumni News Bulletins are published every October, December, March and June, as of the first of the respective month. News deadline for each issue is 30 - days prior to the printing date. For example news for the December 1, 1961 issue should be available November 1, 1961.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

President — Helen M. Brennan, 121 Newburn Drive, Pittsburgh 16, Pa.
Vice President — Roy H. Ankeny, Apollo, Pa.
Secretary — Marian Frances, Ebensburg, Pa.
Executive Secretary - Treasurer — Mary L. Esch, 399 South Sixth St., Indiana, Pa.
(Phone No. Indiana 5-4169)

ALUMNI NEWS BULLETIN

VOLUME 13

October - 1961

NUMBER 1

State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania

T. J.
1961-1965
e. j.

General Alumni Association Meeting Secretary's Minutes

May 27, 1961

The annual meeting of the General Alumni Association was held in Fisher Auditorium at 10:30 a.m., Saturday, May 27, 1961. The meeting was called to order by the Vice President, Mrs. Audrey Graham. She extended greetings and stated that she was sorry the President, Mr. Franklin George, could not be present because of an important business engagement.

The 1961 graduating class was escorted into the auditorium by Mrs. Lois Earhart Johnson (1921), and Mr. Hugh Bell (1911). The following remarks were made by Mr. Bell: "I speak as a member of the Class of 1911, but more especially as a representative of the Alumni Association. An institution such as our college is not the buildings and grounds—important, beautiful, and essential as they are. It is the entire student body, our beloved President, Dr. Pratt, and all the persons who are the college and the great body of alumni from the college through the years. You are now members of the Class of 1961. Tomorrow and every tomorrow thereafter you will be members of this great Alumni Association. It is an honor and a privilege to present the Class of 1961 to be received into the Alumni Association of Indiana State College."

The Class President, Mr. Richard DeBastiani, accepted the membership into the Alumni Association for the Class of 1961.

Mrs. Graham congratulated the class and cautioned them that there would be many disappointments and stated that the challenges would be greater than they may realize.

Mrs. Sally Johnson, Chairman of the Projects Committee, reported that the committee had met earlier in the day and made two recommendations which were approved by the Executive Council: (1) that the quarterly Alumni News Bulletin be continued for the 1961-62 college year and that $2,500 be allocated for this purpose, and (2) that the Alumni Association reinstate its membership in the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges for 1960-61 and 1961-62 and that we pay the fee of $300 for each year, $600, which will put our association in good standing until September 1962. She also reported on the Annual Giving Program which was initiated in November 1960 and stated that the results had been reasonably good, that a total of $2,685.00 had been received as contributions and $1,317.50 had been pledged. Mrs. Johnson also stated that during the coming year it was decided to select one pilot class and work with that group to see how the class as a unit will respond to the Annual Giving Fund.

Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson was then called upon to give reports on the Alumni News Bulletin and the Council of Alumni Associations of Pennsylvania State Colleges. He stated that the alumni bulletin is sent only to dues-paying members of the association and that he was very much interested in receiving news of professional development of the graduates since the Alumni Bulletin reflects the personality of the finest graduates of the institution.

Dr. Nicholson also referred to the reinstatement of membership in the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges and added that the organization has been reorganized and is co-operating with the Board of Presidents and has a fine working relationship with the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the Association of State College Faculties. The main function of this organization is to work on legislation, at the state level, and to promote legislation through the various media that will benefit higher education in the State Colleges.

The Secretary of the Alumni Association, Miss Mary Bagley, was introduced. A motion was made, seconded, and passed that the minutes of the May 1960 meeting stand approved as published in the October 1960 Alumni News Bulletin.

The financial report was given by Miss Mary L. Esch. (See Executive Council Minutes, May 27, 1961, pages 4 and 5)

Mrs. Graham thanked Miss Esch for the outstanding work she is doing for the association.

Mr. Elwood Sheeder, Chairman of the Nominating Committee presented the following slate of officers to serve for the two-year term—June 1961 to June 1963:

President — Miss Helen M. Brennan (1912) Pittsburgh

Vice President — Mr. Roy H. Ankeny (1915), Apollo

Secretary — Miss Marian I. Francis (1947), Ebensburg

Mr. Sheeder then moved the adoption of the slate as presented. Miss Gladys Elcessor seconded the motion, and it was approved. Mrs. Graham called for nominations for each of the offices to be filled, received no response and then called for a motion that the nominees be elected. The motion was made by Miss Thelma Harris, seconded by Mrs. Flossie Sanford, and approved. Mrs. Graham then declared the following persons unanimously elected for the offices indicated for the June 1961 to June 1963 term.

President — Miss Helen M. Brennan (1912), Pittsburgh

Vice President — Mr. Roy H. Ankeny (1915), Apollo

Secretary — Miss Marian I. Francis (1947), Ebensburg

Mrs. Graham commented on the splendid service Dr. Pratt has given the college and invited him to speak.

Dr. Pratt welcomed the group to the campus and stated that he hoped everyone had a chance to see the new buildings—Walsh Hall, the Student Union Building, the Special Education Wing at Keith School, and the Rhodes R. Stabley Library. He also said that plans were in progress for two new dormitories for women, a new dormitory for men, an addition on the Science building, a new athletic field, and a field house.

Dr. Pratt stated that the College administrative staff had considered a change in date for the Spring Alumni Day. It was felt that a more active alumni program might be provided and the college could give more attention to alumni guests if the occasion was scheduled at a time other than the commencement season. He mentioned that some alumni were not in favor of a change in date and asked Mrs. Graham to open the matter for discussion. This was done and a number of alumni, mostly from the 1962 reunion class groups, indicated they would prefer to have the Spring Alumni Day remain as a part of the activities of the commencement season. (The date for the next Spring Alumni Day will be Saturday, May 26, 1962, the traditional date.)

Reunion class were then recognized:

1891 — 0	1911 — 32	1931 — 6
1896 — 0	1916 — 25	1936 — 5
1901 — 3	1921 — 30	1941 — 11
1906 — 3	1926 — 15	1951 — 4

The following people on the platform were introduced by Mrs. Graham:

Miss Nancy Newkerk, Dean of Women

Mr. Bernard Ganley, Acting Dean of Men

Dr. P. D. Lott, Chairman, Alumni Liaison Committee

Reports on activities during the past year were then given by representatives from the following units: Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh-North Boroughs, Indiana, Jeannette, Johnstown, Tarentum, District of Columbia, Apollo, and Tri-Township.

No other business having come before the meeting, it was, on motion duly made and seconded, adjourned at 11:30 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Bagley, Secretary

College Will Give Masters Degree in Business

Indiana State College has been approved to grant the master of education degree in business education by recent action of the State Council of Education, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, states.

Action by the State Council was unanimous in favoring extension of the graduate program at Indiana to include business education. The college at Indiana will begin giving graduate work in business subjects during the next winter sessions.

However, persons who wish to have a major in business education on the graduate level may actually begin their work immediately. Courses in the general education area and in education specifically such as "Elements of Research" and "Thesis" may be started immediately.

The business education major in the graduate level makes the eleventh area in which Indiana State College may now award the advanced degree of master of education.

Graduate work was inaugurated at the State College in Indiana in September, 1957. At first the graduate program was limited to one in which the students could major in elementary education.

The State Council of Education has increased this program so that now a student may complete requirements for the master of education degree in any one of the following programs at Indiana: English, elementary education, science, mathematics, biological science, physical science, geography, guidance, social studies, music, and business. The most recent one to be approved has been, of course, business.

Persons who have had undergraduate majors in the business education area will have the major part of their work in general education for the graduate degree and will be encouraged to study in specific business areas in depth through thesis and special project requirements as a result of a recommendation of the State Council of Education.

Alumni Executive Council Meeting Secretary's Minutes

May 27, 1961

The meeting of the Executive Council of the General Alumni Association was held in Cogswell Hall, Saturday, May 27, 1961, at 9:30 a.m. The meeting was called to order by the Vice President, Mrs. Audrey Graham, who stated that she was sorry that the President, Mr. Franklin George, could not be present because of an important business engagement. She then extended greetings and remarked that the Alumni Association would be worth nothing if we did not have the interest of units and other graduates.

The Secretary, Miss Mary Bagley, was then introduced. Mrs. Graham requested a motion to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the October 1960 meeting since they were published in the December 1960 Alumni News Bulletin. The motion was made by Mr. Roy Ankeny, properly seconded, and approved.

Miss Mary L. Esch gave the Treasurer's report.

Balance May 25, 1960$ 219.10

RECEIPTS

Dues Alumni Units

Altoona	$ 46.50
Beaver Valley	40.50
District of Columbia	55.50
Homestead	36.00
Indiana	231.00
Jeannette	81.00
Johnstown	81.00
Kiski	8.00
Lawrence County	31.50
McKeesport	33.00
Philadelphia	18.00
Pittsburgh	139.50
Tarentum	54.50
Tri-Township	75.00

Total dues from Units$ 941.00

Dues—Individuals 2,131.00

Life Memberships (2) 85.00

Total Receipts, Dues, and Life Memberships 3,157.00

Gifts—Alumni Units

Detroit	$ 4.35
Indiana	100.00
Jeannette	25.00
Johnstown	100.00
Pittsburgh	150.00
Pittsburgh-North Boroughs	100.00
Tarentum	50.00

Total Gifts from Units$ 529.35

Gifts from Individuals 11.00

Total Receipts—Gifts	$ 540.35
Miscellaneous Receipts—addressing service	50.00
	$3,966.45

EXPENSES

June, October, December 1960 and March
1961 Alumni News Bulletin	$1,818.90
Envelopes for mailing Alumni Bulletins	242.50
Publication Rights for article by
Margaret Mead	10.00
Membership Fee American Alumni Council	80.00
Salary of Executive Secretary and reimbursement for phone calls	208.72
Travel (Officers and College Alumni Liaison
Committee to unit meetings and All-
Pennsylvania College Alumni Luncheon)	129.42
Engrossing and framing alumni citation
certificates	8.10
Flowers for Alumni Day 1960 and Homecoming 1960	17.92
Total Expenses	2,515.56
Balance May 27, 1961	$1,450.89

A motion to accept the Treasurer's report was made by Miss Ann Carlin, seconded by Miss Helen M. Brennan.

Mrs. Sally Johnson gave the following report from the Projects Committee meeting which had been held earlier: "The Projects Committee held its meeting at 7:30 this morning and we were very alert considering the age of most of us and the hour and, as a result, we have come up with several recommendations for the Executive group. Last year we reported that we were initiating an Annual Giving Program. We have been satisfied with the results for the first year. Mrs. Graham is Chairman of this project, but due to the fact that she is acting for Mr. George, she asked me to give this portion of her report. The total receipts to date on the Annual Giving Program amount to $2,685.00 and the total amount pledged is $1,317.50, giving a grand total of $4,002.50. Contributions were received from 445 persons and, of this number, 264 made pledges in amounts varying from $1.00 to $10.00. The sum of $361.46 has been paid for printing and supplies thus leaving a balance of $2,323.54. We feel that the results are fairly satisfactory for the first year on this project and that it has taken hold. For the next year, we are planning to select one pilot class and set it up with class agents. These agents will work closely with Mrs. Graham. We will experiment with one class and see what the percentage of return may be and from that as a nucleus work out future plans; in other words, creep before we walk." Mrs. Johnson then stated that she thought everyone would be a good salesman for the Annual Giving Project.

Mrs. Johnson continued: "The Projects Committee wish to recommend (1) that we continue the publication of the Alumni News Bulletin which we all enjoy and that we allocate $2,500 for this purpose, and (2) that we reinstate the Alumni Association membership in the Council of Alumni Associations of Pennsylvania State Colleges for 1960-61 and 1961-62. We have fallen behind because we questioned the value of continuing membership in this association and because of the annual as-assessment of $1,200. The council has now been reorganized and the fee has been reduced to $300 per year. Dr. Nicholson will have some additional remarks on the Council of Alumni Associations." Mrs. Johnson moved the adoption of the two recommendations from the Projects Committee. The motion was seconded by Mrs. McClure and carried.

Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson made the following report on the Alumni News Bulletin and the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges: "I am very happy to report that in the year 1960-61 the entire allocation for the Alumni Bulletins was not used. We have the fourth issue ready to be distributed on Monday so it is very possible if you had news that was late coming in that it won't be printed until October. We urge you to send us your recommendations, your news items, clippings, et cetera—whatever you can find out about alumni of the finest college in the country! The bulletin is now, with this issue completing its tenth year of consecutive publication."

"We have been mentioning the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges for several years at these Executive Council and alumni meetings. At different times, we have had different attitudes toward this council. Your College President, Director of Public Relations, and alumni officials have watched this organization. At one time, it was costing $1,200 a year to belong. Mr. Paul Comley French, Public Relations Consultant, was a fine person. The organization has now been reorganized. Each college sends representatives to council meetings and dues are $300 per year. We feel that, at this price, we cannot afford not to belong to the organization. It is essential that Indiana, as the largest of the Pennsylvania State Colleges, participate in the council for reasons of moral and ethical leadership as well as to see that the interest of Indiana and higher education in all fourteen institutions, which are members of this reorganized organization, is advanced and that we have an opportunity to lend our voice in this council. In case you have some question on the work of the council, this organization is engaged in gathering and co-ordinating information to give to the press but most pertinently to legislators and to key figures in the Department of Public Instruction; and thus to give the point of view of our leaders and the Alumni Association to this group. Today an all too limited amount of money is being made available to education in Pennsylvania as well as in many states. If you expect to receive a fair share, you must have some kind of voice or voices to speak for you. It is toward this particular task that the council is now directing its attention. At all of the meetings, there are representatives from the Presidents of Pennsylvania State Colleges but they do not have the deciding voice. The plan is to have the council co-operate with the Board of Presidents, the P.S.E.A., the Association of State College Faculties, and other groups that are willing to work for the betterment of Education. The council will co-operate with any one of these groups taking the best advice available and adopting a program that we can all support. It would seem to me that our action in voting to support the Council of Alumni Associations of Pennsylvania State Colleges is the most intelligent action we can take at this time. We reserve the right to change our course in the future. We voted to continue membership until September 1962. I thank you."

Miss Esch gave a brief report on the New Athletic Field Project, a three-year project extending through 1962, and stated that during the past year $1,888.01 had been received on pledges and that the alumni office would continue to send reminders on all pledges as they became due.

Dr. Nicholson then read the slate of officers for the two-year period 1961 to 1963 which had been prepared by the Nominating Committee:

President — Miss Helen M. Brennan (1912), Pittsburgh

Vice President — Mr. Roy H. Ankeny (1915), Apollo

Secretary — Miss Marion I. Francis (1947), Ebensburg

There being no further business to come before the meeting, the same was, upon motion, adjourned at 10:15 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Bagley, Secretary

A.A.U.W. APPROVAL (Continued from Inside Front Cover)

"This action," Dr. Pratt said, "makes it possible for a large group of highly educated American women to assume their professional right to membership in a very worthwhile national organization dedicated to the betterment of the lot of women in the professions, arts, sciences, and industry."

American Association of University Women policy provides for a first review of institutions three years after original approval. The AAUW committee on higher education will at the end of this period make a check of developments at Indiana State College.

Dr. Roberts, speaking for the American Association of University Women committee on higher education, indicated on the part of the committee a hope that Indiana State College would continue to promote competent women on our faculty and to add other well trained women to the faculty.

As an approved institution, Dr. Roberts stated, Indiana State College is now eligible for corporate membership in the AAUW with the privilege of representation at national conventions, regional and state meetings, subscription to the AAUW Journal and other publications, and the consultative service of the association.

Alumnae of the college, of course, are now eligible for membership in the AAUW by virtue of graduation from Indiana State College.

Dr. Roberts, speaking for the committee on higher education of the American Association of University Women stated to Dr. Pratt, representing the college, "I congratulate you on the approval by the American Association of University Women, for our standards of approval are high. I hope that membership in this association, the largest organization of university women in the world will mean a great deal to your institution and to your alumnae."

Negotiations with the American Association of University Women were carried on over a period of ten years by Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college and during recent years by a local committee appointed by Dr. Pratt consisting of Florence Wallace of the social studies department, Mary L. Esch, registrar, Jane S. Mervine of the social studies department, Dr. Lois C. Blair of Keith School, Dr. Dorothy Lucker of the English-speech department, and Ruth Podbielski of the health and physical education department.

Thirty New Faculty Join Indiana Staff

Thirty new faculty members joined the professional staff at Indiana State College for the 1961-62 college year, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, has announced.

These thirty persons include: Mamie L. Anderzhon, Donald J. Ballas, William Becker, William F. Bishopp, Ralph Ray Booth, Lorrie J. Bright, Dr. John Chellman, Dr. Louis E. Colteryahn, Leonard B. DeFabo, Mrs. Patricia H. Eden, Norman J. Fedder, Harry W. Haldeman, Dr. Richard F. Heiges, Paul R. Hicks, Mrs. Alma L. Kazmer, Bertha King, Marjorie C. Kircher, Frank E. Landis.

Beverly J. Lucas, Robert N. Moore, Carl P. Oakes, Roberta S. Paisley, Willis J. Richard, Dr. Robert H. Saylor, George K. Seacrist, William R. Smith, Dushan Vojnovich, Richard F. Waechter, James C. Wilson, and Patsy A. Zietelli.

In addition to the thirty new faculty, John Polesky of the business education department and Fedor Kabalin of the music department who began their work last semester are continuing in the positions they assumed at that time.

Further, Mrs. Mary McGregor, retired Indiana High School English teacher who has been serving from time to time over the past several years as a member of the college English department, is teaching English at the college during the first semester and will be succeeded in the second semester by Dr. Margaret Stewart, who was formerly a member of the college English department and who is now teaching at the University of Kentucky at Lexington, Kentucky.

Fourteen of the faculty are filling new positions caused by the expansion of the undergraduate enrollment and the graduate school division. Sixteen are replacing faculty who have retired, gone on leave, or resigned to take other positions.

Mamie Louise Anderzhon is an associate professor in the geography department. She received her bachelor of philosophy degree and her master of science degree from the University of Chicago.

She has taken undergraduate work at Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls and graduate work at Harvard University and McGill University at Montreal, Canada.

For six years Miss Anderzhon taught in rural and consolidated schools in Iowa and for eight years with the Oak Park Public Schools in Illinois. From 1942 to 1945 she served three years with the Army Map Service in Washington, D.C., and then returned with the Oak Park Public Schools.

She was a Fulbright teacher in India from 1956 to 1957 and taught again from 1957 to 1961 in the Oak Park Public Schools. She also taught evenings at DePaul University in 1960.

Donald Joseph Ballas is an assistant professor of geography. He received his bachelor of science degree from Clarion State College and his master of arts degree in geography from the University of Pittsburgh. He has taken additional graduate work at the University of Nebraska and the University of Tennessee.

Mr. Ballas served as a reference librarian at the University of Pittsburgh from 1956 to 1957 and as an instructor at the same university from 1958 to 1959. He was a graduate assistant and assistant professor for a two year period from 1959-61 at the University of Nebraska.

William Becker is an associate professor of music. He received his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa. He has completed the course work for the doctor's degree in music education at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa. He expects to receive his doctor's degree in February, 1962.

He was an instructor of music from 1952 to 1953 at Keota Independent School, Keota, Iowa. From 1954 to 1956 he was an instructor at the Rudd Consolidated Schools, Rudd, Iowa. For three years from 1956 to 1959 he was an assistant professor at Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, and was a graduate assistant at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, from 1960 to 1961. He has also studied music in Heidelberg, Germany.

William F. Bishopp, Jr., is an assistant professor of French. He received his A.B. from the University of Illinois and his M.A. from the University of Oregon.

He taught for two years as an assistant professor at Ohio Northern University from 1953 to 1955. From 1955 to 1957 he taught at Alma College in Michigan, and from 1957 to 1961 at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Ralph Ray Booth is an associate professor in the science department. He received his bachelor of science degree from Davis & Elkins College and his master of science degree from West Virginia University.

He has taken additional graduate work at Purdue University, University of Delaware, University of Pittsburgh, and American University.

Mr. Booth taught for a year and one half in the chemistry department at Purdue, worked for about a year as a chemist for Honeggers' & Company in Illinois, taught for three years at Davis & Elkins College as an associate professor, served as a chemist for about sixteen months at Hercules Power Company, Delaware, and for the past four years has been an assistant professor at Grove City College.

Lorrie Jacques Bright is an assistant professor of English. He received his A.B. from Kenyon College and his M.A. from the University of Rochester. He has taken additional graduate work at Ohio State University and Brockport (New York) State College.

Mr. Bright served as a graduate assistant at Ohio State University from 1953 to 1954, was a high school teacher in several different high schools in New York state for five years, was assistant professor at Brockport (New York) State College for one year, and for the past year was an assistant professor at Union College, Barbourville, Kentucky.

Dr. John Chellman is chairman of the health and physical education department. He received his bachelor of science degree from Slippery Rock State College, his master of education degree from the University of Pittsburgh, and his doctor of education degree from George Peabody College.

He has taken additional graduate work at Emory University. Dr. Chellman taught briefly at Mt. Oliver Junior High School, Pittsburgh, before entering the service in 1941. He served for 4 years and 5 months with the United States Army Air Force.

After returning from the service he worked for eight months with the Y.M.C.A. at Oil City. He then taught at Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, from 1946 to 1956. From 1956 to 1957 he taught at Alabama College and from 1957 to 1958 at the University of Alabama. From 1958 until coming to Indiana in September, 1961, Dr. Chellman worked with the Jefferson County, Alabama, Department of Health.

Louis Emanuel Colteryahn is an assistant professor of science. He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Pittsburgh and his master of science and Ph.D. degrees from Pennsylvania State University. He has taken additional graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh and Indiana State College.

Dr. Colteryahn has worked from October, 1954 to June, 1961, with the United States Steel Corporation in the Applied Research Laboratory at Monroeville as a senior technician.

Prior to that he was employed for about six years as a research assistant with Penn State University. He worked for about two years with the N.A.S.A. at Cleveland, Ohio, in the Lewis Flight Prop Laboratory.

Leonard Benedict DeFabo is an assistant professor in the Keith School. He received his bachelor of arts degree from St. Mary's University and his master of education degree from Duquesne University.

He has taken additional work at St. Joseph's College and Seton Hill College. He has taught at Southington High School in Southington, Connecticut, and for the past three years at Derry Area Joint High School, Derry, Pa. He also taught a summer session at Seton Hill College.

Patricia H. Eden is an assistant professor of art. She received her bachelor of fine arts degree from the University of Nebraska and also took undergraduate work at Rollins College and Florida State College for Women.

She received her master of fine arts in ceramics from Cranbrook Academy of Art and also took graduate work at the Florida State University and the University of Florida. She taught for two years in a high school and worked during the past year for Grand Ledge Clay Products Company in Michigan. She also taught extension classes for the University of Nebraska.

Norman Joseph Fedder is an associate professor of English. He received his B.A. degree from Brooklyn College and his master of arts degree from Columbia University. He also took undergraduate work at Johns Hopkins University and has taken additional graduate work at New York University.

Harry William Haldeman is an assistant professor of English. He received his bachelor of science degree from West Chester State College and his M.A. degree from Pennsylvania State University. He was a graduate assistant at Pennsylvania State University for three years and from 1959 until coming to Indiana he taught at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Richard F. Heiges is an associate professor of social studies. Dr. Heiges received his bachelor of science degree from Indiana State College and his master of arts and Ph.D. degrees from Ohio State University.

Following his graduation from Indiana State College he served two years as a lieutenant in the United States Army. He was employed by the department of political science at Ohio State University, taught for two years at the South High School, Columbus, Ohio, and for two years in the department of political science at Ohio State University.

For the past two years he has been a research associate of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission at Columbus.

Paul Richard Hicks is a librarian. He received his A.B. degree from the University of South Carolina and also took undergraduate work at The Citadel. He received his master of arts in library science from George Peabody College.

Mr. Hicks was a teacher from 1957 to 1960 at Central Cove School, Martinsburg, Pa., and was a librarian for a year at Juniata Valley School, Alexandria, Pennsylvania.

Alma Louise Kazmer is a supervisor of home economics student teachers. She received her bachelor of science in home economics from Indiana State College and her M.Ed. from Pennsylvania State University. She taught for 14 years in Barnesboro High School. During ten of those years she served as a cooperating teacher for Indiana State College supervising student teachers.

Bertha G. King is an assistant professor of home economics. She received her bachelor of science in home economics from the University of Georgia and took undergraduate work at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College.

She received her master of science in home economics from the University of Tennessee. She taught for seven years in several public schools in Georgia and was a graduate assistant in home management at the University of Tennessee for one year. For the past two years she had been a home economics teacher at Newman City Schools in Georgia.

Marjorie Ceil Kircher is an assistant professor of art. She received her bachelor of science degree from Wisconsin State College at Milwaukee and her master of science from the University of Wisconsin at Madison. She has taken additional graduate work at the Teachers College, Columbia University.

Miss Kircher taught for three years at the University of Connecticut, for six years at Gulf Park College, Mississippi, and for two years at Wisconsin State College at Superior.

Frank Elton Landis is an assistant professor in the foreign language department. He received his A.B. and M.Litt. degrees from the University of Pittsburgh. He has taken additional graduate work at the University of Dijon and at the Sorbonne in France. He taught for five years at Chestnut Ridge High School, Fishertown, Pa., and for one year at Central Cove Schools, Martinsburg, Pa.

Beverly Jane Lucas is an instructor in the physical education department. She received her bachelor of science degree from West Chester State College and has taken additional graduate work at the Pennsylvania State University.

She taught for two years in elementary schools in Birmingham, Michigan, and for three years at South Hills High School in Pittsburgh.

Robert Neili Moore is an assistant professor of science. Mr. Moore received his bachelor of science degree from Clarion State College and his master of science degree from Bucknell University. He also has taken additional graduate work at Indiana State College.

Mr. Moore taught for five years at Summerville High School, Summerville, Pa., and for five years at the Clarion-Limestone High School, Strattanville, Pa. He also was a science consultant at Bucknell University from 1960 to 1961.

Carl Patterson Oakes is an assistant professor of mathematics. He received his bachelor of science degree from Indiana State College and his master of education degree from Pennsylvania State University.

He served for three years and two months with the United States Navy during World War II and for five months with the United States Army in 1953. From 1953 to 1959 he taught in Penns Manor Joint Schools in Clymer. From 1960 until coming to Indiana State College he taught at Abington Senior High School at Abington, Pa.

Roberta Sarah Paisley is an assistant librarian. She received her bachelor of science degree from Clarion State College, her M.Ed. degree from the University of Pittsburgh, and her master of science in library science from Western Reserve University. She has taken additional graduate work at Pennsylvania State University, Syracuse University, and Temple University.

For the past six years she has been employed as the head librarian in the School District of the Borough of Bethel, Bethel Park, Pa. Prior to that she served as librarian in technology for Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, and served as librarian in the West Mifflin Schools, in the Arnold Public Schools, and at Chautauqua Institute.

Willis J. Richard is an assistant professor in the social studies department. He received his A.B. degree from Berea College in Kentucky and his master of science degree from Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa.

He took additional graduate work at the University of Wisconsin. He worked for the Iowa State Planning Board for one year and was for seventeen years self employed as a farm manager in Bowling Green, Ohio. From 1957 to 1961 he taught at Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio.

Dr. Robert Homer Saylor is an associate professor of education and psychology. He received his bachelor of science degree from Juniata College and his M.Ed. and D.Ed. degrees from Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Saylor was director of student affairs at Pennsylvania State Center, McKeesport, Pa., for one year, taught one year at Virginia Military Institute, one year at Pennsylvania State University, two years at Wittenberg College, and for a number of years in the public schools of Pennsylvania.

George Kenneth Seacrist is an assistant professor of English. He received his bachelor of science degree from Indiana State College and his master of literature degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

He taught for one year at Tarentum High School, three years at Kreutz Creek Joint Schools, Hellam, Pa., one year at Manchester High School, Manchester, Pa., and for six years at Pennsylvania State University centers in New Kensington and York.

William Randle Smith is an assistant professor of mathematics. He received his bachelor of science degree from Pennsylvania State University and his master of education degree from Harvard University. He has taken additional graduate work from Pennsylvania State University.

He taught for two years at Tyrone Area High School, for one year at Long Branch Junior High School in New Jersey, and was a graduate assistant for one year at Pennsylvania State University.

Dushan Vojnovich is an assistant professor in the music department. He received his B.A. from the Music Academy, Gubljana, Yugoslavia and his M.M. degree from the State Conservatory of Zagreb, Yugoslavia. He has taken additional work at Joliet Junior College in Illinois and at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Illinois.

He has played with the International Summer Academy Orchestra at Salzburg, Austria, with Mozarteum Extension Branches at Salzburg, has been a teacher at the Austin Academy of Fine Arts, Music director at St. Francis Academy, Illinois, and an instructor at Joliet Musical College.

For one season he played with the Quebec Symphony Orchestra, Canada, and was a string instructor at Bishop Mautain Public School in Quebec.

Richard Frederick Waechter is an assistant professor of science. He received his bachelor of science degree from Bloomsburg State College and his master of science degree from Bucknell University. He has taken additional graduate work at Pennsylvania State University. He taught for eight and one half years in the Milton Area Joint Schools and for two years at Bucknell University.

James C. Wilson is an associate professor of education and psychology. He received his bachelor of science degree from Clarion State College and his master of education degree from Duquesne University. He has taken additional graduate work from the University of Pittsburgh.

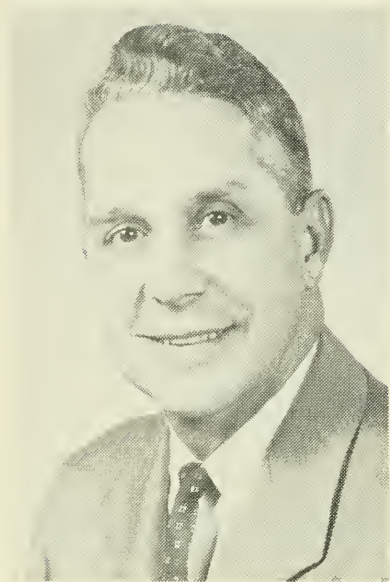

He served for two years in the United States Army from 1953 to 1955. From 1955 to 1961 he was a teacher and counselor in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.

Patsy A. Zitelli is an associate professor of physical science. He received his A.B. and M.Ed. degrees from the University of Pittsburgh and has taken additional graduate work at Pennsylvania State University.

He taught for about three year in the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, city schools and served as an instructor with the Army Air Force at Scott Field from 1942 to 1945.

Mr. Zitelli was a teacher for the Pittsburgh Board of Education Evening School for five years and from 1946 to 1961, has been employed as a teacher by the Wilmerding School District, Wilmerding, Pa.

Elwood B. Sheeder Receives Doctorate Degree

DR. ELWOOD B. SHEEDER

Named Dean of Men at College
September 1, 1961.

Elwood B. Sheeder, member of the business education faculty at Indiana State College, has been awarded the doctor of education degree from the University of Pittsburgh August 11, 1961.

Dr. Sheeder's thesis was entitled, "An Analysis Of The Professional Growth Of Prospective Teachers Of Business Education During Their Student Teaching Experience".

Dr. Sheeder became dean of men for the college at Indiana beginning September 1, 1961, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, said.

In his doctoral work at the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Sheeder's dissertation proposed to determine whether a knowledge of strengths and weaknesses of business education student teachers at the end of nine weeks would enable the supervisors and the student teachers to correct the weaknesses in nine additional weeks of student teaching.

The secondary purpose of the study was to develop a simple rating scale to determine the professional strengths and weaknesses of business education student teachers. Included in the study were ninety-four student teachers who were divided into a control and an experimental group. Information was gathered by means of 6,265 rating scales that were completed by college supervisors, supervising teachers, student teachers, and pupils.

Among the conclusions reached in Dr. Sheeder's dissertation was the fact that college supervisors, supervising teachers, student teachers, and pupils appear to agree in determining relative strengths and weaknesses of student teachers.

Dr. Sheeder further found that at the end of nine weeks and at the end of eighteen weeks pupils seem more lenient in their ratings of student teachers than the college supervisors, supervising teachers, or student teachers seem to be.

At the end of nine weeks the student teachers appear to be more lenient in rating student teachers than the supervising teachers and the college supervisors are. At the end of nine weeks the supervising teachers seem to be more lenient in rating student teachers than the college supervisors are. At the end of eighteen weeks college supervisors appear to be more lenient in rating student teachers than the supervising teachers and the student teachers themselves. At the end of eighteen weeks student teachers rate themselves more leniently than the supervising teachers rate them.

The four groups of raters agree more closely in their specific judgments after eighteen weeks than after nine weeks. There seems to be evidence to indicate that the student teachers' knowledge of their weakest areas of student teaching at the end of nine weeks will bring about improvement in these areas after an additional nine weeks.

There is a basis for believing that those student teachers who have a knowledge of their ratings after nine weeks of student teaching will show significant improvement in more areas than those who do not have this knowledge, Dr. Sheeder's study indicated.

Dr. Sheeder started his teaching career at Indiana State College in January, 1957, as a member of the business education faculty. Prior to that he had been coordinator of distributive education and chairman of the business education department at Indiana Joint High School for ten and one half years.

Dr. Sheeder received his bachelor of science degree from Indiana State College in 1946 and his master of education degree in 1948 from the University of Pittsburgh.

At Indiana Dr. Sheeder has been a business education teacher, has supervised student teaching in business education, has been sophomore adviser, an adviser of business education students, a member of the Faculty Council, and finance adviser and faculty chairman of the Oak, the college yearbook.

During World War II, Dr. Sheeder served overseas in the South West Pacific Area for 19 months as a naval pilot. He won the air medal, presidential unit citation, and holds the American defense ribbon, victory medal, and the Atlantic and Pacific area ribbons.

He served as flight instructor at Pensacola, Florida, upon return from overseas until separation from service. In all Dr. Sheeder served in the U. S. Navy from 1934 to 1938 and from 1941 to 1945 in the Naval Reserve.

He continued as a member of a Naval Reserve Unit in Johnstown from 1945 until 1958 and presently holds the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the United States Naval Reserve.

A member of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, National Education Association, Pennsylvania Business Education Association, Association for Student Teaching, and the Association of State College Faculties, Dr. Sheeder is also a member of Logan Lodge #490 F. & A. M. of Altoona, and of the Harrisburg Consistory A.A.S.R.

He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the United Commercial Travelers, and of Delta Pi Epsilon, honorary business education fraternity. A member of the executive committee of the Indiana County Heart Association. Dr. Sheeder also serves as Elder of the Graystone United Presbyterian Church and is treasurer of the Sabbath School and a member of the Christian Education Committee.

Dr. Sheeder is married to the former Alice Poole of East McKeesport, a graduate of the art department at Indiana State College. Dr. and Mrs. Sheeder have two sons, Bobby, age 10 and Ricky, age 6, both in Keith School.

Dr. Sheeder is the fourth person to serve as the dean of men at Indiana State College. The first person to be dean of men was William J. Jack who held the position from 1907 to 1917 when it was titled "preceptor". Walter M. Whitmyre succeeded him in 1917 and held that position until his retirement in 1954. Dean Schnell succeeded Mr. Whitmyre and held that position until his illness in the spring of 1961 at which time Bernard J. Ganley served as acting dean of men. The title of the position was changed from preceptor to dean of men in 1920.

Leroy H. Schnell became dean of men in 1954 upon the retirement of Dean Whitmyre. Dean Schnell has been a member of the faculty of Indiana State College from 1936 until the present time. He served two years with the United States Navy in the Naval V-12 program in administration stationed at Flagstaff, Arizona, and Georgetown, Texas, from 1943 to 1945.

Mr. Schnell's work until he became dean of men was largely in the field of mathematics. He is the author of several outstanding text books in the mathematics field.

Prior to coming to Indiana he taught at East Michigan College of Education, at Bowling Green State University, and at East Lansing Branch of Michigan State University.

Dean Schnell has served as veterans counselor at Indiana State College since World War II and has been adviser of the Student Council and Inter-fraternity Council. He has also been Military Affairs coordinator for the college.

Prior to entering the service he assisted with placement as well as serving in the mathematics department.

Former Alumni President Assumes New Position

● Dr. Glenn C. Hess, 1937, has been elected superintendent of schools of the School District of the City of Washington, Washington County, Pennsylvania. Dr. Hess will assume this new position on November 1, 1961.

For the past several years he has been superintendent of schools at the Canon-McMillan Joint School System at Canonsburg, Pa. His new office will be located at 44 West Wheeling Street, Washington, Pa.

News Items About Indiana Grads

AS IT MUST TO ALL

● Mr. Lelia Ada Stitt Whitfield, 1890, died July 17, 1961, in the Beaver County Hospital. She was 88 years of age at the time of her death.

● Rue Cetta Thompson Bair, 1895, died May 8, 1961, at the home of her daughter in Fox Chapel.

● Nelle P. Maxwell, 1903, died June 1, 1961, at her home, 436 South Avenue, Wilkinsburg. Until her retirement in 1947, Miss Maxwell taught in the Wilkinsburg Public Schools for 39 years. She was principal of the Allison School from 1932 until her retirement. She was a life member of the Indiana Alumni Association and served as secretary of the General Alumni Association from 1947 to 1949.

● Mrs. May Getty Kagarise, 1909, died July 15, 1961, at Columbia Hospital, Wilkinsburg.

● Stella Barr Miller, 1910, died June 6, 1961, at her home in Vandergrift. She taught for a number of years in Indiana, Cambria, and Westmoreland Counties.

● Mrs. Virginia Flegal Martin, 1913, died May 21, 1961, in Cleveland, Ohio. She taught for a number of years in Clymer, DuBois, and Clearfield before going to Ohio to live.

● Mrs. Ina Clare Lookabaugh McKnight, 1947, died July 2, 1961, in the Indiana Hospital from injuries received in an auto accident in 1959. She was 36 years of age at the time of her death. She taught school in Leechburg for a number of years and later in Indiana County schools. She received her master of education degree from Indiana State College in 1960.

● Paul Cunningham, aged 71, president of the Indiana State College Class of 1911, died July 16, 1961, in Minnesota.

A long-time resident of Iowa, Mr. Cunningham served several terms in the United States House of Representatives from his Congressional district.

● Mrs. Esther Dickie Hunger, 1911, died April 6, 1961, in the Vincent Pallotti Hospital, Morgantown, West Virginia. She was the wife of Dr. Arthur D. Hunger, Point Marion, Pennsylvania.

Dr. and Mrs. Hunger located in Point Marion in 1916 where Dr. Hunger established his medical practice. Mrs. Hunger was a Life Member of the Alumni Association.

She was an active member of the First Methodist Church and participated in many church activities. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, the Sarah Cochran Club of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, Progress Club, Flower Club, Medical Auxiliary, Vincent Pallotti Auxiliary, Cancer Society, and Tuberculosis Association.

Mrs. Hunger, in addition to her husband, is survived by four children — Mrs. Charles C. Tallman, Augusta, Georgia; Dr. Arthur D. Hunger, Jr., York, Pennsylvania; Joseph R. Hunger, Columbus, Ohio; and Mrs. David Kraft, St. Louis, Missouri; 12 grandchildren; and two sisters—Mrs. James T. Henry, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and Mrs. Clarence Smith (Mabel Dickie, 1899), Chicago, Illinois.

● Mrs. Elizabeth K. Pannebecker, formerly of 2927 Broad Avenue, and a retired teacher of the Altoona School District, died Saturday, July 22, after an extended illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary P. Means in Boulder, Colorado.

She was born in Altoona on September 16, 1895, a daughter of William and Mary (Kearney) Moore, and Married G. Arthur Pannebecker who died in September, 1942.

Mrs. Pannebecker graduated from Altoona High School and received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Pittsburgh. She first served as a teacher in the Endress School in 1941, in 1946-47 at the Eldorado School, in 1951 at the Baker School, and from 1952 until her retirement in 1959, at the Curtin School.

Mrs. Pannebecker taught at Indiana from 1928 to 30 as a co-operating teacher in the sixth grade at Horace Mann Elementary School. Her daughter, Mary, attended Indiana State College. She is married to John R. Means, a graduate of the Indiana State College art department with the class of 1954. He has just completed an internship toward a doctorate in psychology in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Means now reside at 2231 14th Avenue, Boulder, Colorado.

● John Wesley Neff, former chairman of the music department at Indiana State College and a member of the college board of trustees for many years, died May 31, 1961, at the age of 69. He joined the music department faculty at the college in Indiana in 1925 and continued there through the 1930's.

Prior to coming to Indiana he taught in the public schools in Missouri, at George Peabody Teachers College, and at Kirksville, Missouri State Teachers College.

He received his bachelor's degree at Kirksville, Missouri State Teachers College and his master's degree at Columbia University. He was a veteran of World War II.

His wife, Gertrude Farrington Neff, was for a number of years also a member of the college music department. One daughter, Mrs. John S. (Sarah Jane) Fisher II, attended Indiana State College from 1955 to 1957.

WEDDING BELLS

● Gretchen Haines, 1960, married Arthur Earl Worth, 1961, June 24, 1961. On September 1, Lieutenant and Mrs. Worth went to Fort Lee, Virginia, where Lieutenant Worth began a two year tour of duty with the United States Army. The bride had been employed as a home economics teacher in the Broackway Area Joint High School.

● Joan Lois Frey, 1955, married James Alvin Boytim, 1959, in August, 1961. Mr. and Mrs. Boytim reside at 205 Parker Street, Carlisle. Since graduating from Indiana State College Mrs. Boytim studied music at the Hochschule Fur Musik in Germany on a Rotary fellowship. She is a teacher of vocal music at Carlisle Senior High School. Mr. Boytim is a mathematics teacher at Carlisle Junior High School and is taking graduate work at Indiana State College.

● Phyllis Anne Gogniat, 1961, and David Esch, 1961, were married June 10, 1961. Mrs. Esch is now teaching home economics in the Penn Hills School District and Mr. Esch is teaching business in the Wilkinsburg School District.

Mr. and Mrs. Esch reside at 207 North Trenton Avenue, Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania.

● The marriage of Norma Mae Langer, 1959, to John Hutton Shaffer took place July 15, 1961. Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer will reside in Minerva, Ohio, where both will be teaching. The groom is a graduate from Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio.

BIRTHS

● Dr. and Mrs. Richard F. Heiges (Betty Ann Kummer), announce the birth of their third daughter, Linda Joy, born May 4, 1961.

NEW POSITION

● Edwin W. Moore, 1958, is employed as a professional service representative of Pfizer Laboratories, a division of Charles Pfizer & Company, Inc. He joined Pfizer in March, 1961. Mr. Moore and his wife, Jane, have three children, Sally, Ed, and Jennie. They live at R. D. #1, Ligonier. He recently attended a two-week company training session in Clifton, New Jersey.

● Jean McKenney, 1937, has been assigned to a new position in the Pittsburgh Public Schools. Jean McKenney, who had been teaching in the Brookline Elementary School, will serve as supervisor of elementary school instructional services.

She has received her master of education degree from the University of Pittsburgh. Before entering the Pittsburgh school system Miss McKenney taught at Turtle Creek.

● Mrs. Eleanor G. McVicker Vallas has been appointed an elementary school supervisor in the Pittsburgh Public Schools. Most recently a teacher at Wightman School, she has also taught at Forbes and at the old Shakespeare Schools. Before coming to Pittsburgh, Mrs. Vallas taught in Conemaugh Township, Somerset County. She received both her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Pittsburgh after completing the two year intermediate course at Indiana State College in 1932.

● Mary Kordistos Elenitsas, 1954, now resides at 960 Athalia Avenue, Monesson. She teaches in the Douglas School of Business where she has been doing outstanding work in teaching handicapped people typewriting.

Articles about the work of Mrs. Elenitsas at the Douglas School of Business appear on July 20, 1961, in the Valley Independent and the Monongahela Daily Republican.

● Matthew H. Bruce, Jr., 1952, has been appointed assistant professor of science education at Cornell University's School of Education. Last year Mr. Bruce was at Pennsylvania State University as a graduate assistant. He received his master of education degree from Penn State in 1955 and is about to receive his doctor of education degree also from Penn State.

Last year he received the National Science Teachers Association Recognition Award. He has also been awarded a fellowship and a scholarship by the National Science Foundation. He taught physics in the Pennsylvania Public Schools from 1955 until 1960 and served as a first lieutenant in the United States Army during 1952-54.

COMMISSION

● Walter Wojcik, 1961, was recently commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve after completing his final phase of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Lee, Virginia.

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE INSTITUTE

● Gene Adamczyk, 1958, participated in the Russian Language Institute during the summer of 1961, conducted by Indiana University at Indiana University and in Russia.

Sponsored by the National Defense Education Act, the institute was designed to help teachers of Russian improve their fluency of the language. The institute began at Indiana University on June 15.

After about five week of study, the entire group left from Indianapolis Airport on July 21 to Idlewild Airport, New York, from where they flew to Finland. On arrival in Helsinki the group took an overnight boat for Leningrad, Russia.

From the time the students arrived in Russia until their departure, they used no language but Russian. While in the Soviet Union they visited many sights in Leningrad, Moscow, Kiev, and other points.

They returned to the United States by way of Helsinki on August 25. On August 26, in New York City, they took the MLA Russian proficiency tests.

DEGREES

● Seven Indiana State College Alumni received advanced degrees at Pennsylvania State University on June 10, 1961.

They were James Eugene Doverspike, 1953, who received his doctor of education degree in counseling in education, Marian Ardry Bloom, 1957, who received her master of education in home economics, Phyllis Elaine Carver, 1959, who received her master of education in business education.

Joshua Junior Freeberg, 1949, who received his master of education in biological science, Robert Lorane Gauntner, 1956, who received his master of education in educational administration, Robert Vincent Igo, 1952, who received his master of education in physical science, and Lora Garrett Park, 1959, who received his master of education in elementary education.

● Jerome P. Nolan, 1957, received his master of education degree from Rutgers University on June 7, 1961. Mr. Nolan resides at 25 South Valley Avenue, Vineland, New Jersey.

● Madalene Roseva Barnett, 1959, received her master's degree from the Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, June 4, 1961.

● Dominick, Oliver, Jr., 1947, of 3563 Ferry Avenue, Niagara Falls, New York, received his master of arts degree from the Niagara University in June, 1961.

● James E. Doverspike, 1953, received his doctor of education degree in counseling in education from Pennsylvania State University on June 10, 1961. His residence is 300 Western Avenue, Brookville. He also received his master of education degree from Pennsylvania State University.

● Grace Eileen Raney, 1953, received her master of fine arts in music education from Carnegie Institute of Technology June 13, 1961.

● William Harrison Culp, 1957, received his master of science in education degree from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Illinois June 14, 1961.

● Ellis R. Thomas, 1952, has been awarded a master of arts degree in business education from Rider College. He is a resident of Mount Holly, New Jersey, and is presently teaching at Rancocas Valley Regional High School in that city.

ACTIVE ELDER

● Mrs. Helen Wilson Luzadder, 1892, is now 93 years of age. She lives at Paradise Pines rest home near New Meadows, Idaho.

After earning her teacher's certificate at the old Indiana Normal School almost 70 years ago Mrs. Luzadder took Horace Greeley's "go west, young man" applied it to herself and went to Idaho where she taught for a number of years.

She then went to Alaska where she met Mr. Luzadder and was made superintendent of schools at Skagway in which position she served two years. She returned to Idaho in 1919 and married William Edward Luzadder, superintendent of the Mount Marshall Mining Company.

In 1921 she resumed teaching at Nampa, Idaho and served as history instructor there until 1932 when both she and her husband retired.

Mrs. Luzadder is a daily reader of New York stock quotations and other affairs of the world at the age of 93.

HALL OF FAME

● Lt. Col. John T. Joseph, 1940, of 31 South Walnut Street, Blairsville, Pa., has been elected to the Fort Benning Officers Candidate Hall of Fame. Distinguished graduates of Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning are selected for inclusion.

Colonel Joseph graduated from OCS in July, 1942. He entered active duty with the Pennsylvania National Guard in February, 1942. He has served as project officer for airborne and Army aviation material in the U. S. Army Infantry School's Combat Developments Office since December, 1959.

He was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in December, 1954. In February, 1941, Col. Joseph enlisted in the Pennsylvania National Guard and concurrently entered active duty.

After graduating from OCS and airborne training, he remained at Fort Benning as a platoon leader in the 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment. In March, 1943, he went to Alliance, Neb., as a company executive officer in the 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment.

Col. Joseph assumed command of Company C of the 507th in October, 1944, in Europe. A year later he returned to Fort Benning as adjutant of the First Parachute Infantry Regiment. He attended The Infantry School's advanced officer course in 1947-1948.

He served with the 11th Airborne Division in Japan from August, 1948, to the following March, when he accompanied the unit to Fort Campbell, Kentucky. On completing the Air Command and Staff School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alaska, in February, 1951, Col. Joseph became G-3 (plans and operations officer) for air of Headquarters, Eighth Army in Korea.

He began a 32-month tour as airborne action officer in the Career Management Division, Office of the Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C., in September, 1952.

Following 10 months as commander of the First Battalion, 511th Airborne Infantry Regiment, at Fort Campbell, Col. Joseph commanded the unit in Augsburg, Germany, for a year.

From January, 1957, until coming to the Ninth Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division at Fort Benning in February, 1959, he was executive officer of the G-1 (Personnel) Section of Headquarters, VII Corps, in Stuttgart, Germany.

During this period Col. Joseph was chief of staff of the 24th Division Brigade in Lebanon from June to October, 1958.

Among his decorations are the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Bronze Star Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Purple Heart with two Oak Leaf Clusters.

Col. and Mrs. Joseph, the former Mary Jane Asper of East Market Street, Blairsville, have three children, Anita, 13, Thomas 11, and David, 7.

LAUGHLIN'S DOCTORATE

● James Walton Laughlin, 1951, received his doctor of education degree from Pennsylvania State University August 26, 1961. His major field was in counseling in education with a minor in geography. He previously received a master of education degree with a major in geography and minor in counseling in education from Penn State University. He also took additional work at the University of Pittsburgh.

During World War II he was with the Topographic Battalion in the United States Army.

Since his graduation from Indiana State College he taught as a classroom teacher in the Bedford Area Schools, was guidance director in the Latrobe Senior High School, and for the past five years has been guidance coordinator of the College Area Schools at State College, Pa. He has also been an instructor (part time) in the College of Agriculture and the Latin American Institute at Penn State.

Dr. Laughlin is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Iota Alpha Delta, Pennsylvania School Counselors Association, The American Personnel and Guidance Association, American School Counselor Association, and Alpha Omega.

Dr. Laughlin is married to the former Barbara Anderson, class of 1951. They have three children, Jimmy, age 5, Billy, age 3, and Jane, age 2.

DREW UNIVERSITY PRO

● The Reverend Larry E. Kalp, 1957, was appointed administrative assistant of public relations at Drew University, according to Dr. Robert Fisher Oxnam, president of the university.

Mr. Kalp assumed his duties in the public relations office on June 1.

Born in Tarrs, Pa., Mr. Kalp graduated cum laude from The Theological School at Drew University this past June. Upon graduation he was ordained a minister in the Methodist Church at the Pittsburgh Annual Conference.

UTAH VISITING PROFESSOR

● Louis C. Nanassy, 1936, was summer session visiting professor, teaching graduate courses in business education at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

Dr. Nanassy, who is professor of business education at Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, N. J., has been named general chairman of the second annual conference of the Eastern Region of United Business Education Association. The conference will be held November 24 and 25 at the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel in New York City.

WEDDING BELLS

● Charles P. Signorino, 1961, married Marie A. Sacco June 17, 1961. Mr. Signorino is now teaching music education in the West Branch Area School District, Lanse, Pa. Mrs. Signorino has been secretary at the College Public Relations Office for the past 3½ years and has also assisted with the publication of the Alumni News.

Mr. and Mrs. Signorino reside at Hillcrest, Philipsburg, Pa.

Activities of the Alumni Units

INSTANO 1912

● Verne Martin McKee arrived from wintering in Florida just in time to assist her co-committee members, Margaret Allen and Marion Brown, to complete arrangements for the spring Instano Luncheon.

Forty-one enjoyed a pleasant afternoon and delicious luncheon at the University Club on May 6.

Thirteen of those present were guests from the classes of 1911 and 1913.

We were pleasantly surprised to find Myrtle Balmer Mortimer on our list, after a period of forty-nine years absence. She came up from Texas to Washington, Pa., to visit her brother. Myrtle lives in San Antonio and cordially invited us to visit her at her home there, or on their ranch which her husband calls Myrtle's Folly.

She hopes to return for our fiftieth reunion in 1962, plans for which are already in the hands of Florence Wallace and Edith B. Wolfenden of Indiana.

The lovely floral arrangement on the table was a thoughtful contribution from Edith McWhorter and Nellie Pardoe, now living in Tampa, Florida and looking forward to 1962, and Reunion.

Submitted by
Mrs. Joseph P. Clarke

CLASS OF 1921

● The week-end of May 28, 1961, brought many members of the 1921 graduates to Indiana where they spent the hours getting caught up on each other's activities and seeing the enlarged college.

Friday evening, May 26, about sixty persons visited after seven p.m. in the home of Dr. J. W. and Margaret Hamilton Campbell responding to the "Open House" invitation. Guests included Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Walsh, Mrs. Letty Schreiner Trainer, Mrs. Jess McCool Ray of the 1921 faculty.

On Saturday morning the visiting to various new buildings and the registration of guests preceded the College luncheon.

At the luncheon the reunion classes responded to the call of the chairman, and the 1921 class grouped together and sang an original song about persons who were known at the school forty years ago. Evelyn Prideaux Smith lead the singing.

About fifty members were present when the class meeting was held in the afternoon in Leonard Hall with Margaret Hamilton Campbell presiding and Sara Bevan Johnson giving the treasurer-secretary report.

At that meeting it was decided to present a gift to the college to honor Miss Jennie Ackerman who gave so much to the school during her thirty-six-year leadership in the Training School. The Committee is endeavoring to decide on the gift and hopes to announce its decision soon.

At the Outside Inn the banquet was held for about 75 persons and the class picture was taken outside in chilly weather.

"The Instano" was our year book in 1921, so a "New Instano" gave each one a surprise with all the new names and addresses of most of the class. An "In Memoriam" was read for the twenty-four members who have passed on.

The officers elected to serve for the next term are: Margaret Hamilton Campbell, president; Sara Bevan Johnson, treasurer; and Orpha Faech Lowry, secretary.

Submitted by
Mrs. Jesse W. Campbell

CLASS OF 1916

● The graduating class of 1916 turned out about 60 strong on May 27, 1961, for its 45th anniversary reunion.

The General Alumni Association meeting on Saturday morning was the scene of the first get-together. There the graduating class of 1961 was received into membership. This brought back fond memories of when we once were received in the same manner.

The Alumni Luncheon in the familiar dining room was a pretty setting for gay greetings and reminiscences.

In the afternoon at the 1916 class reunion experiences were exchanged, and it was truly a jolly affair.

Then we moved over to the dinner at the Moose Hall. The committee had worked well, for the food was sumptuous, and the laughter was free and breezy.

Mrs. Austen Anderson then graciously invited everyone to her home for the balance of the evening. We all agreed this was a fitting way to close a glorious day and planned to meet in five years for our 50th anniversary.

Submitted by
Ethel Morrow

CLASS OF 1911

● The members of the 1911 class returned to Indiana for their 50th reunion. We had a glorious and happy time seeing our classmates. None of them were using a cane, some wore glasses, and all have a few locks of silver streaked in their hair. Our class dinner was held at Lewis's Tea Room and 42 attended. Miss Esch was our honored guest.

Paul Cunningham, our class president who resides in Des Moines, presided at the various functions. They came from across the miles to attend. Namely one from California, three from Florida, two from Oklahoma, and one from Iowa, and the others from the Keystone State. We spent the weekend reminiscing and story telling.

We thank our dear old Alma Mater for her cordial and welcoming invitation. Long may Indiana be praised.

JEANNETTE UNIT

● Twenty-two members of the Jeannette Unit traveled to their Alma Mater on Thursday, June 29, for the final activity of the club year. The weather was excellent and the day spent there was a most delightful one.

Dr. Willis E. Pratt, Mary L. Esch, and Dr. Dorothy Snyder, a former Jeannette teacher, welcomed the group and accompanied them at dinner which was served in the college dining room.

The campus tour was conducted by Mrs. John Greaves III and Donna Scott.

Several of the group also visited with Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hill. Mrs. Hill also taught in the Jeannette Schools.

Following the dinner a short business meeting was held on East Porch with President Mrs. Edmund Hebrank presiding. Mrs. Lester Brown, chairman of the nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the new year:

President - Dolores Dominick,
Vice President - Mrs. Adelson Wilson,
Secretary - Mrs. Wilbur Shaul,
Treasurer - Mrs. Newell Connor, and Delegates - Mrs.

Rolf Hansen and Mrs. Dorothy Brown.

All were unanimously elected.

Mrs. Hebrank thanked her various committee chairmen for the fine cooperation given to her during her two terms of office. She then introduced the new president Delores Dominick. Plans were made for the first club activity to be held in August. It will be a picnic at Busky Run Park.

Members making the trip were: Mrs. Daniel Stevenson, Mrs. Robert Cestello, Mrs. Joseph Glatky, Mrs. Ralph Wilps, Lucille Shearer, Edna Brinker, Mary Birolo, Mrs. Eula Menoher, Mabel Schall, Dora Schall, Mrs. Joseph Buckley, Geraldine Rice, Olivia Evans, Mrs. Mae Coen, Mrs. Earl Beiersdorfer, Mrs. Harry H. Stump, Mrs. Greaves, Miss Scott, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Brown, Miss Dominick, and Mrs. Hebrank.

TARENTUM UNIT

● Officers to serve the group for the next two years were elected May 9, 1961, by Tarentum Unit of Indiana State College Alumni.

Scene of the dinner meeting was Folly Castle Inn in Indiana.

Miss Edith Dawson was named president, with Mrs. A. E. Mosley, vice president; Mrs. Albert Walters, secretary; and Mrs. Harry Hamilton, treasurer.

Visiting the group for the evening were Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson of the Indiana State College Public Relations department and Miss Mary L. Esch, college secretary.

Miss Esch discussed the various alumni units of the college and also disclosed the whereabouts of many of the institution's former teachers.

New improvements at Indiana — a home economics building, three dormitories, a student union, athletic field and field house — were listed by Dr.

Nicholson. He also revealed that the college has established a new library, with 70,000 volumes at present, and hopes of 135,000 volumes in the near future.

"Indiana will have an enrollment of about 3,200 next September", Dr. Nicholson added.

He also said that the college may eventually be expanded to include education of teachers, liberal arts, pre-professional training courses at graduate level — "but the college is still primarily concerned with the education of teachers."

Mrs. Richard E. Jones, outgoing president of the Tarentum unit, conducted business, at which the group voted a $50 donation to the general alumni fund.

PHILADELPHIA UNIT

● Though the sky looked threatening on May 6, for their annual picnic, 19 of the Philadelphia Unit drove out to the Hoehler home (overlooking Valley Forge Park). Indoors or out, rain or shine, there is always a happy time with the Hoehler's.

Kay Deisher Bayer came all the way from Boyertown and Ruth Taylor Birnstock from Reading. Lillian McKain TerBush in gay spring outfit brought her daughter who with vice president Jeanette Sachs Singer could head a style show.

Other members, it would be noted, were not passed either. Jean Haines Anderson helped recall happenings at Indiana in the old day. It was good to see Martha Zeigler Wagner looking so well after her illness. Hester Fleck had snapshots of her new home in Chautauqua where she will move, next year. Though hard to give her up, best wishes go with her.

While husbands, 6 of them, in a room apart, talked politics and world affairs, or whatever husbands talk, new president Helen Bruner Snyder opened the meeting with the usual call for reading of the minutes by the secretary Patsy Watson High.

After some business the attractive new directory was distributed. This was a great surprise for it had been completed in such a short time. It was compiled by an efficient committee and printed under the direction of Patsy High. President Synder called for for a standing vote of appreciation which came forth with gusto.

Boxes of goodies were then opened, some specialties were shared and, of course, Roseanna Ball Hane's delicious cake made-one. Hostess Dorothy Heyden Hoehler then brought honest-to-goodness coffee with rich cream and sugar.

When the shower was over, but tales of children, of classmates, and of Indiana-doings, not yet exhausted, reluctantly all headed homeward.

Submitted by
Mary Edna Flegal

PITTSBURGH-NORTH BOROUGH'S UNIT

● On May 20, at the University Club, our president, Sylvia Smith Highbee, warmly welcomed the congenial group of thirty-six to a most delightful spring luncheon; and, Edna Dysters Kappel gave the invocation.

The president later installed the newly elected officers and conducted a memorial service for one of our unit members - Anna Hagenlocker - and included the relatives of members who had also recently passed away. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord".

Georgiana Carpenter-McCammon, of the program committee, introduced the speaker, Miss Claire Trussell of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, and a graduate of the University of Michigan. She delighted us with an illustrated lecture, "Search for Beauty," and gave to each a key-chain with a miniature pastel colored "Princess Telephone" charm.

Before beginning the lecture, Miss Trussell said that recently she had presented this same lecture for the Indiana, Pa., Business and Professional Women's Club, who had as guests the more than one hundred attractive High School Senior girls of the Indiana Community.

She was pleased to relate that many of them had already enrolled for their Freshman year at the college of our choice - our own Alma Mater!

As a token of our appreciation, Miss Trussell was presented with a gift from the unit by Mrs. Higbee; who, in turn was given the beautiful floral center-piece that graced the speaker's table. Each one of the assorted spring beauties, in the artistic arrangement, conveyed to her our best wishes for a speedy recovery from the surgery that she was about to undergo.

The final meeting of our year was a picnic on June 10, at the beautiful Surss Chalet of Edna Dysters Kappel - "La Chalet Au Bois" in the Wexford section of North Park. The menu and arrangements were in charge of the Ways and Means Committee, with Fannie Evans Baird chairman, ably assisted by Adele Giammartini Bauer, Anna Evans, Beatrice Jeffries, Mildred Pauch and Mrs. Kappel.

Even though the rain drove us indoors, the delicious picnic lunch and fellowship was enjoyed by all. A vote of sincere appreciation and thanks was tendered Mrs.

Baird for the years of service she has rendered so efficiently and graciously as the chairman of this very important committee.

The business session that followed was in charge of the retiring president, Mrs. Higbee. The usual reports, and that of the auditing committee, were received. The treasurer's yearly report really showed how active our unit had been.

Catherine Taylor brought greetings from the General Alumni Association at the College on May 27. In addition to Miss Taylor, we were represented at the Executive Council, Projects Committee, and the General Alumni Association Meeting and Luncheon by Adelaide Ramsey Clark, Jean Lacock Russell, Adele Giammartini Bauer, Margaret Bardonner, Louise Crooks, and Georgiana McNary McMillen.

Lillian Walschmidt Brown is proud to have her granddaughter, Lorraine Brown, a student at her beloved Indiana State College. Lorraine has been honored by being a recipient of a Corrine Menk Wahr Scholarship.

November 18 was set as the date of the Benefit Dessert and Bridge-Games Party, with Helen Falkenstein in charge. Edna Heine Sage will entertain Mrs. Falkenstein and her committee at her home to make the necessary preparations for the benefit during the summer.

The yearbook is being prepared for 1961-62 by Winifred E. Orr and the District Chairmen. They will be ready for distribution in September.

Mrs. Higbee, who was most appreciative of the co-operation and many kindnesses extended to her during the past year, introduced the new president, Mildred Pauch, for whom she coveted the same gracious consideration and co-operation. Miss Pauch's first official duty was the pleasant one of presenting a beautiful summer hand-bag to her predecessor, with the best wishes of the unit.

We are proud to have among our members, two former Indiana faculty members - the Misses Ethel M. Orr and Ethel Coughlin.

Our final meeting of the year closed with a welcome to the new members and best wishes for a pleasant summer to all. Mr. and Mrs. Kappel received the gratitude of all for their gracious hospitality, and the sharing of their home with us. It made a memorable closing for a most successful year!

Submitted by
Lillie List Herman,
Corresponding Secretary

THE PITTSBURGH UNIT

● The first meeting of the new school year, was held Tuesday evening, September 5, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth McClure in Edgewood. Despite the humid weather and it's being the opening day of the Pittsburgh Schools, we had an excellent turn out.

Our new president, Gladys Elcessor, presided, and welcomed the members back from many interesting vacations. Helen Brennen, new president of the General Alumni, was our only European traveler this year.

Newly retired are Gertrude Barthol, Gladys Elcessor, Betty Piper, and Hazel Stephens. Mrs. Flossie Wagner Sanford reported a delightful visit with Miss Jennie M. Ackerman, former Head of Teacher Training at Indiana, at her home in Coral Gables, Florida.

Hazel Stephens reported the illness of Anne Doherty, Mary Faloon, Nelda Shaffer and Elizabeth Piper, who is in the Magee Hospital, as the result of a serious automobile accident. She also reported the death of Mr. L. A. Tarbox, husband of Virginia Poole Tarbox, and Paul Cunningham, brother of Mr. S. K. Cunningham.

Mildred France and her efficient committee, issued the new year-books, listing 134 members and an interesting program of regular and special events for the year.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 3, at the home of Mrs. Margaret North Bush of Penn Hills.

We extend greetings to Dr. and Mrs. Pratt, Mary Esch, and the Faculty and hope this will be the best year the College ever had.

Submitted by Grace N. Lacock

College Prepares For Liberal Arts Curriculum

Prime problem in the growth and development of Indiana State College in the months ahead will be preparing for liberal arts and pre-professional curricula, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college at Indiana, stated today.

"Way for the establishment of liberal arts and pre-professional curricula for Pennsylvania State Colleges has been prepared by legislation overwhelmingly passed by the Pennsylvania State legislature in recent weeks," Dr. Pratt pointed out.

"Future approval of curricula which will be prepared will have to come from the Board of Presidents of the Pennsylvania State Colleges and the State Council of Education," Dr. Pratt said.

The Indiana State College faculty and administration last spring planned a series of faculty meetings to be held during the 1961-62 year which will deal with the development of a liberal arts and pre-professional curricula, Dr. Pratt said.

The faculty meetings will be held each month during the months of October, November, December, February, March, and April to deal with the various departments of the college and their roles in the development of the new curricula.

"It is anticipated," Dr. Pratt said, "that at the April meeting the summary of faculty studies will be completed and it is likely at that time that Indiana State College will have plans prepared to be submitted to the proper state authorities for discussion and approval."

At the annual faculty workshop held September 1 and 2, prior to the opening of school, the Indiana State College faculty made an intensive preliminary investigation into the various problems which would evolve from the adoption of programs in liberal arts and other pre-professional college work at Indiana.

Administrative officers worked with faculty groups in such areas as "The Development of the New Curricula", "The Future of the Graduate Program", "Evaluation of the Proposed Curricula", "Student Personnel Problems Involved in the Development of the New Curricula", "Changes in Student Teaching and Placement Under the New Curricula", "Public Relations Problems Involved in the New Curricula", "Development of the College Library for the New Curricula", and "The ROTC Program Under the New Curricula".

"The series of six faculty meetings to be held throughout the 1961-62 academic year will further explore the problems, methods, and various phases implementing programs in liberal arts and other pre-professional higher education curricula," Dr. Pratt said.

"Progress reports of development which are expected to greatly change Indiana State College as an institution of higher education will be made as these developments occur," Dr. Pratt said.

"The faculty and administration at Indiana State College regard the recent action of the Pennsylvania State Legislature as one of the greatest challenges ever given to Pennsylvania's fourteen State Colleges," President Pratt asserted.

The hope is that these new liberal arts and pre-professional programs at Indiana may very possibly be implemented in part by the beginning of the 1962-63 academic year and the immediate semesters following.

Housing of Indiana Students Is Complex Problem

Housing of students at Indiana State College has become a complex development, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, states.

About 2,000 boarding students of the total 3,484 full time undergraduate students are housed in thirty-three dormitories of the college including the small houses and fraternity houses, Dr. Pratt said.

Housing arrangements for men are under the direction of Dean Elwood Sheeder aided by Assistant Dean Wade Mack. Housing facilities for women students are under the supervision of Dean Nancy Newkerk aided by Assistant Dean Dorothy Palmer.

About 1300 women are housed in eighteen dormitories for women, Dr. Pratt said. The largest of these dormitories is John Sutton - Thomas Sutton complex which houses 700 women students; Wahr Hall houses 152. These are the two largest of the college owned dormitories for women.

In addition Joseph Sutilla has three privately owned dormitories — Conestoga House which houses 83 women on Grant Street, Algonquin which house 50 women on Wayne Avenue, and Grant House which houses 60 women on Grant Street.

Other privately owned dormitories are Locust House owned by Anthony Rellick and located on Locust Street. Locust House has 27 women students. Chickasaw House at the corner of Tenth and School Streets owned by Dr. John Watchko houses 20 women. Seminole House on Grant Street, owned by Dr. Orval Kipp, houses 16 women students.

A college rented house known as Washington House located on the corner of Washington and Eleventh Street houses 27 women students. Chippewa House on Grant Street owned by Waxlers houses 14 women students.

A series of college owned houses on Grant Street housing women include Ottawa—15, Pawnee—15, Delaware—13, Sioux—12, Lenape—17, and Cherokee—10.

There are two other college owned houses for women, Wyandot on Eleventh Street housing 22 women and Lewis House on Eleventh Street housing 12 women students.

Many of the small houses for college students are named for American Indian tribes in keeping with the traditional theme of the college.

In addition to these college owned houses there are about 250 seniors girls living in town in private homes. This 250 number includes a few girls who are working for room and board, living with relatives, or are 21 years of age but not seniors. In addition there are two home management homes on campus each occupied by 10 home economics senior girls.

Most of the college students dine in two regular college dining halls which are run by the Slater Corporation. There are 1469 people eating in Thomas Sutton Hall Dining Room there regularly each day. Of these 1469, 1194 are girls and 275 are men.

Three hundred and sixty men students will take their meals in the Whitmyre Hall Dining Room.

Men are housed in two principal college dormitories — Whitmyre Hall with 210 men and Langham with 185 men. Five college owned houses located on Pratt Drive and named Tuscarora, Susquehanna, Monegan, Seneca, and Mohawk are occupied by a total of 45 men.

Dr. David Winslow has a college cooperating rooming facility on 1021 Church Street occupied by 13 men.

In addition seven national social fraternities for men which have Indiana Chapters own or rent seven fraternity houses in the Indiana community. These fraternities house a total of 165 men students. As many as 100 other Indiana college men live in private homes and apartments in the Indiana community.

In general the 3,484 undergraduate students at Indiana State College are divided into 2,013 who are called boarding students and 1,471 who are called day students. A considerable number of those day students are boarding students who live in privately owned homes not directly under college supervision in the Indiana community.

Assisting the dean of men and the dean of women and their assistants are about ten official head residents and as many as 35 advanced junior and senior student counselors.

All college students living in and about the Indiana community, whether in college owned houses, fraternity houses, or in private homes, are expected to obey the rules of the college regarding student behavior and the general laws of the community, Dr. Pratt said.

Central Western Education Conference October 9-10, 1961

The twenty-second annual Central-Western Pennsylvania Education Conference will be held Monday and Tuesday, October 9 and 10, 1961, on the campus of the State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, according to Dr. I. L. Stright, conference chairman and director of graduate studies at Indiana State College.

Dr. Andrew D. Holt, president of the University of Tennessee and former president of the National Education Association, will be the keynote speaker for the conference using for the title of his address, "How To Be a Cobalt Bomb".

Dr. Holt will speak at the opening general meeting of the Central Western Education Conference at 9:00 a.m., October 9, in Fisher Auditorium.

George R. Seidel, educational manager of the public relations department of the DuPont Company, will be featured guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. general meeting in Fisher Auditorium speaking on the subject "A Layman Looks At Education".

Dr. Paul S. Weaver, president of Lake Erie College at Painsville, Ohio, will be the speaker at the general meeting of the conference at 9:15 a.m., Tuesday, October 10, using for his subject, "Human Relations Across National Frontiers".

Ernest Kehr, a member of the editorial staff of the New York Herald Tribune, will discuss, "U. S. Foreign Policy At Work" at the general conference meeting Tuesday, October 10, at 2:45 p.m., in Fisher Auditorium.

In addition a large number of local area and Pennsylvania educators will be included in the speaking program.

The conference, Dr. Stright indicated, will feature outstanding clinics in the areas of public relations, speech and hearing education, music education, art in elementary education, art in the secondary school, mathematics, arithmetic, reading in the junior and senior high school, secondary and elementary science, and vocational agriculture.

Demonstration lessons will be presented in various phases of elementary education in the Thaddeus Stevens, Eisenhower, Horace Mann, and Keith Laboratory Schools. Several demonstration lessons will also be given in secondary school methods in the Keith Laboratory School by college faculty members.

There will be department meetings in administration — supervision, art, business, classroom teachers, English, Foreign Language, geography, guidance, health and physical education, home economics, industrial arts, library, mathematics, Pennsylvania Future Teachers of America, music, safety and driver education, science, school nurses, secondary school principals, social studies, special education, supervision and curriculum, and vocational agriculture.

There will be section meetings in Primary Reading, Use of Sensory Materials on the Intermediate Level, Junior High School Reading, Use of Sensory Materials on the Senior High Level, Use of Sensory Materials on the Primary Level, Intermediate Reading Group, Use of Sensory Materials on the Junior High Level, and Senior High School Reading Group.

The Central-Western Education Conference officers are:

Dr. I. Leonard Stright, conference chairman, director of graduate studies, State College, Indiana; Dr. John E. Davis, conference secretary, director of student teaching and placement, State College, Indiana; and Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson, conference information, director of public relations, State College, Indiana.

The Central-Western Convention District officers are:

Donald McKelvey, president, Reynoldsville-Winslow Joint Schools, Reynoldsville; Thelma Morse, vice-president, Everett-Southern Joint Schools, Everett; M. Ethel Dixon, second vice-president, Johnstown Schools, Johnstown; and William F. Shaffer, secretary-treasurer, Westmont-Hilltop Schools, Johnstown.

Cooperating organizations participating in the Central-Western Education Conference include the Central-Western Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, Armstrong County Teachers, Ford City Teachers Institute, Indiana County Teachers Institute, Jefferson County Teachers Institute, Kittanning Union School District, Nanty Glo-Vintondale Teachers Institute, Punxsutawney Teachers Institute, Windber Teachers Institute, Indiana Teachers Institute, and the Indiana State College.

Annual Fall Homecoming Day Will Attract Fifty Thousand People

October 14, 1961

Homecoming Day at the State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, will be held Saturday, October 14, 1961, Dr. James K. Stoner, faculty chairman of the event, stated today.

Day long activities will be highlighted by a parade, football game, Alumni meetings, and social events.

The annual Homecoming parade produced by various student organizations of the college will have for its theme "College Creations." Sororities, fraternities, and other college organizations will portray in float form representations of color symbolizing the intentions of the parade theme.

The parade will begin at the college campus, move through the center of the Indiana community, and terminate at College Memorial Field. Community and college organizations will present awards for the best floats in the parade.

The annual Homecoming football game will feature the gridiron clash between Coach Samuel G. Smith's "Big Indians" and the Slippery Rock "Rockets" on Memorial Field beginning at 2:45 p.m.

Evening amusements will include dancing in the Keith School and Waller Gymnasiums and socializing in the Student Union, after 8:30 p.m. The college dramatics department will present a dramatic performance directed by Robert W. Ensley at 7:30 in Fisher Auditorium. Charles A. Davis will direct the Indiana Glee Club in a brief music concert in conjunction with the dramatic show.

The Indiana Alumni Unit is sponsoring a Homecoming Dance for Alumni and friends at the Indiana Country Club from 9:30 p.m. on. Music is by "The Tophatters."

Helen M. Brennan, retired Pittsburgh school principal and president of the General Alumni Association, has announced a meeting of the Alumni Executive Council in Fisher Auditorium at 10:00 a.m. The Alumni Projects Committee will meet in the Clark Hall Alumni Office at 9:00 a.m.

At noon there will be a luncheon (by reservation) in the college dining room. Alumni president Helen M. Brennan will preside and Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, will welcome Alumni. Various Alumni and college officials will be introduced. There will be incidental music on the Hammon Organ.

Registration for Homecoming Day begins at 9:00 a.m. and will continue all day in Room 101, Leonard Hall.

During the past 86 years, approximately 18,900 people have been graduated from the State College at Indiana, Pennsylvania. The institution has grown from a small normal school of 300 students and eight faculty members in 1875 to a degree granting teachers college with an enrollment of 3,450 undergraduate students, 300 special undergraduate students doing part time work, and 205 faculty members in the current 1961-62 term. In addition the college now has developed a graduate division of about 1,200 students.

An estimated 30,000 people will view the spectacular Homecoming Day parade. About 8,500 Alumni and guests will visit the college on Homecoming Day.

Various fraternities and sororities, and other organizations at the College will hold open house for their Alumni during the afternoon.

College Enrollment Records Continue At New Highs

3484 Undergraduates

Enrollment at the State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, has reached a record figure in 1961-62 for the seventh consecutive year despite every effort to hold down enrollment because of the need for more facilities.

A total of 3484 full time undergraduates are now enrolled at the college in Indiana, according to Mary L. Esch, registrar.

This number includes 3460 full time students and 24 persons who are now enrolled full time but who will transfer to nurses training at the Indiana Hospital at the end of the current semester.

The 3484 figure for 1961-62 compares with the 3125, including 28 nurses, for 1960-61, the 2893 figure including 30 nurses for 1959-60, and the 2647 figure including 21 nurses for 1958-59.

Of the 3484, 1534 are men and 1950 are women. Of the 3484 students, 1471 are day students and 2013 are boarding students.

In addition to the full time enrollment of 3484 there are 1250 different persons enrolled part time in the graduate studies division, 125 teachers in service taking Saturday Campus classes, and about 60 other part time students.

Many persons are viewing a course in "Fundamentals of Mathematics", given by Indiana State College over WQED-TV in Pittsburgh.

The enrollment at the college has had to be limited this year because of the desire of the college to avoid further overcrowding of facilities. For every place the college had for a new student there were about three applicants during the past spring and summer, Dr. Pratt said.

The State College at Indiana is the largest of the 14 Pennsylvania State Colleges and the tenth largest institution of higher education in the state.

